COUNCIL DECLINES TO O.K. BOYS' WORK BILL

Mayor Farmer, Councillors Morgan, Ferguson, Sartoris, Hamilton and Beebe, and Secretary Kelly attended Monday night's meeting of the town council, when very little business was transacted beyond the consideration of accounts.

The council had been apprised of the fact that the waters of Lyon Creek had begun to undermine the retaining wall between State and Victoria Streets on Ninth Avenue to such an extent that a portion of the wall had cracked and had begun to settle. Immediate attention was necessary and a motion was passed to the effect that repairs be effected.

The works and property committee was also authorized to proceed with gravelling that section of Victoria Street between the Royal Bank and Green's corner, a culvert to be installed at this latter point.

All accounts were O.K'd, with exception of one in connection with work performed by a number of boys throwing over-size stones from the gravel along Victoria Street. This account totalled $56.25, which to the average person was not too much for the amount of work accomplished in a couple of days, but Councillors Morgan, Hamilton and Sartoris were opposed to paying the bill, and a motion made by Beebe-Ferguson was voted upon as follows. For—Ferguson, Beebe, Farmer; against—Morgan, Hamilton and Sartoris.

Another motion was made by Hamilton and Sartoris, that the boys be paid at the rate of 35 cents per hour for the time they worked. This motion also resulted in a deadlock.

Later Councillor Morgan felt that the boys should be paid and asked that the former motion be reconsidered. Put to the meeting a second time the same deadlock was registered and as a consequence a number of young lads who willingly worked and performed as good services as ever were rendered for the money they were expecting, are obliged to wait for their pay.

In this connection, it has been suggested that the hat be passed around among the people who have the welfare of our young industrious lads at heart, and it is confidently believed that this trivial amount would soon be forthcoming. The ratepayers in general realize that the work accomplished along Victoria Street last week was well worth the money expended, and holding back pay from the boys is not likely to influence them in the right direction.

CAIRN MARKS SITE OF OLD POLICE POST

Unveiling of the cairn in the grounds of the Fort Saskatchewan jail, which marks the site of the original buildings erected in October, 1874, by Col. W. D. Jarvis and twenty non-commissioned officers and men of the first party of Royal North West Mounted Police to enter the Edmonton district, was carried out on Sunday, July 24th, by Major-General Griesbach in the presence of a large gathering of old-time members of the famous force, and citizens of the town.

CORRESPONDENCE

Blairmore, August 2nd, 1927. Mr. Editor, Blairmore Enterprise. Sir—What is the matter that the town council does not notify he C. N. Pass. Ry. to clear the right of way of their railroad running through Blairmore of the pest of fox tail and weeds—these weeds have spread all over town and in the gardens. Unless action is taken at once the whole town will be covered with this pest.

LETHBRIDGE MINERS ENJOY ANNUAL VISIT TO BLAIRMORE

Upwards of fourteen hundred from Lethbridge attended the Blairmore miners' picnic here on Saturday last.

At a quarter to ten the special train of seventeen coaches reached the Blairmore station, and the happy holiday seekers immediately repaired to the athletic grounds, where preliminary preparations for them had been made by a committee from the local unit.

The weather was all that could be desired. The programme started promptly and each event was keenly contested by the young people, while some of the older folks ventured to figure they too were still young and capable of filling a place in the contests with the kiddies.

At 4:30 the final event on the programme was staged, a baseball game between the Lethbridge senior miners versus the Blairmore Tuxis juniors, in which the visitors won by a good margin.

During the afternoon and evening the arena dancing pavilion was placed at the disposal of the visitors and dancing was indulged in to music provided by their own orchestra.

During the entire day, the Lethbridge Miners' brass band rendered popular and enlivening selections.

Despite a few light showers of rain in the evening, we feel safe in saying that the visitors thoroughly enjoyed their outing.

The return trip was made at 9 p.m. According to the C.P.R. records, 1435 men, women and children took in the trip.

VANDERBERG—METZLER

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday, July 23rd, when Miss Cecilia Metzler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Metzler, of Fishburn, became the bride of William C. Vanderberg, of New Westminster, B.C., Rev. Father Selein, of St. Henry's church, officiating.

The ceremony took place on the lawn at the home of the bride's parents before a beautiful altar of flowers, the bride wearing a lovely white satin gown with melin overthrow. Miss Maryvella Metzler, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by Mr. William Metzler. Following the ceremony, some seventy guests sat down to a dainty wedding breakfast.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Vanderberg, who have the best wishes of a host of friends throughout the community, left on Sunday morning on their honeymoon and will visit Spokane, Portland, Vancouver, New Westminster, Calgary and other cities. On their return they will reside at Crows' Nest, where Mr. Vanderberg is C.P. R. agent.—Pincher Creek Echo.

BLAIRMORE DEFEATS BELLEVUE AT TENNIS

In a match played at Blairmore on Wednesday afternoon, July 20th, the Blairmore Tennis Club defeated the Bellevue Tennis Club, winning all five matches played. The results of the events played were as follows:

Men's singles—R. Pinkney beat "Doc" Barbour 4-6, 6-2, 6-1. A. Hnatyshyn beat J. Delaine 6-0, 6-2. E. McDonald beat E. C. Costick 6-0, 6-1.

Men's doubles—Mrs. Kerr and A. Hnatyshyn beat J. A. Barbour and J. Delaine 6-2, 6-2. E. McDonald and P. Farmer beat Mr. Hamlet and H. Barlass 6-0, 6-1.

Messrs. Milton Robinson, Glen Bowerman, James Bennett and Welsh Brothers, farming south of Lundbreck and Cowley, were very heavy losers in a hail storm that hit their grain crops the week before last. None of them carried hail insurance.

Twenty officers and men were killed or wounded when three mines on a Japanese mine layer exploded during naval manoeuvres off Kiushiu Island.

Jack Stitt and family arrived from Lethbridge last week end on a visit to Mrs. Stitt's mother, Mrs. Patterson. They are enroute to the Pacific coast.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Laden with the spoils of their many victories, the greater number of members of the Canadian hockey team are returning to Canada.

Special despatches from Tomak say that the Siberian authorities have placed a ten-year ban on sable hunting. Extinction of the animals shortly, if the present intensive slaughter is continued is feared.

His Majesty the King has conferred a knighthood upon the Order of St. Michael and St. George upon Dr. W. P. Grenfell, known for his work among the sailors and fishermen of Newfoundland during the past 35 years.

Reports that stray buffalo from the herds moved north from Valerian have been making trouble in the farming country around Fort Vermilion are to be investigated. Complaints have been made that some 15 animals of the first contingent have mixed with some cattle and destroyed crops near Vermilion.

Coal production in Saskatchewan during the first six months of this year exceeded by 7,338 tons the output of the province for the same period of 1923. The official figure issued by the Provincial Labor Department is 194,573 tons. This mark was surpassed in January to July of 1925 at nearly 9,300 tons.

E. P. Ranch Improved

House Has Been Enlarged and Property Is Being Improved To Yield Returns

Many improvements have been introduced on the Prince of Wales ranch since his last visit in 1924. The property is beginning to make some return to its Royal owner for the sums he has spent in stocking and developing it.

It has always been the Prince's ambition to make his ranch, more than anything else, a model of its kind and an example for other farmers in the West. The E. P. Ranch extends more than 6,000 acres, small as important ranches go, but it is high-grade land, and is one of the richest grain-growing and stockraising regions to be found in Western America.

The ranch house has been enlarged and otherwise improved since his Royal Highness last saw it. A new lounge hall and extra bedrooms have been added. The whole dwelling is simply furnished. A few comfortable lounge chairs, a well-filled book case or two, and one or two water-color pictures of neighborhood beauty spots are the only appearance of "luxury."

Its sporting equipment, however, is very complete, and the Prince is able to enjoy good sport. On his own property wild ducks abound on one or two small lakes and on a tributary of the High River that winds through the ranch and provides it with water. Mountain trout are numerous in this stream, some of them attaining considerable size, while not far away prairie chickens and partridges are to be found in flocks at certain seasons of the year. Where bigger game is sought, the Prince has not much farther to ride before he comes across the trail of herds of wild deer that range over the foothills of the Rockies.

Discontinuing Bird Sanctuary

Lae LaBiche, after some seven years as a bird sanctuary, is likely to be discontinued as such. The Alberta game branch is advised that the Dominion parks department is now considering its abandonment and the reservation of other lakes in the vicinity instead. This action is understood to be the outcome of an agitation by settlers around the lake, who have asked to have the restrictions lifted.

A Difficult Salvaging Job

Raising Of German Battle Cruiser Is Remarkable Feat

Draped in silks and seaweed, the keel of the battle cruiser Moltke has been lifted above the surface of the water in the old anchorage ground at Sena Floy in the Orkneys, where the German fleet was interned after its surrender in the Firth of Forth on November 21, 1918, and where the vessel was scuttled by their crews on June 21, 1919.

When the wreck is finally beached in shallow water to be broken up, one of the most difficult jobs in the history of salvage will have come to a successful conclusion. The 7,000-ton Moltke, another of the scuttled battle cruisers, was raised with less difficulty. She lay on an even keel, so that lifting her, while a tremendous job, was a straight textbook problem. The lifting of the Moltke, which turned turtle as she sank, has presented great difficulties. In her case the successful salvage work has been due largely to the ingenuity of E. F. Cox, a spare, nervous, pallid Londoner in his early forties, who at Sena Floy is usually found snarled from head to foot with grease and rust.

Mr. Cox is a shipwrecker and scrap iron merchant who never did a salvage job in his life until he went to Sena Floy three years ago in the lonely Orkneys, which lie so far north of Scotland that you can read a newspaper outdoors at midnight at this time of year, he and a gang of 100 laborers have lifted 22 scuttled destroyers, the battle cruiser Moltke and other ships.

In ordinary salvage no two jobs are ever exactly alike, and that holds good at Sena Floy, where the scuttled vessels lie in every conceivable position. Mr. Cox has pumps capable of handling more than a ton of water a second. He has pneumatic hammers, drills and riveters capable of delivering 1,500 blows a minute, either under water or above the surface. He has electric pumps to illuminate the water in the slush hold of a sunken vessel. He has a huge pontoon of various sizes, shaped so that they fit closely to the outer skin of a sunken ship. These when fastened into place beneath the water, are pumped out and the air within them exerts its lifting power. His salvaging ship—a floating machine shop with derricks capable of handling weights up to fifty tons—has powerful engines for towing.

To Suit the Needs of the Small Boy

The small boy's suit for play wear may be both practical and manly when fashioned on the lines of the model pictured here, which is made of tan and navy striped duro. It has a round flat collar, and fastens in the centre front with buttons and buttonholes. The back is plain with a drop-seam, and the set-in sleeves may be long or short. The legs are loose at the knee, and an upper and lower patch pocket trims the front. No. 1319 is in sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. Size 4 requires 1 1/2 yards 32-inch material, or 1 3/4 yards 36-inch; short sleeves require 1/4 yard less. Price 20 cents.

Home sewing brings nice clothes within the reach of all, and to follow the mode is delightful when it can be done so easily and economically by following the styles pictured in our new Fashion Book. A chart accompanying each pattern shows the material as it appears when cut out. Every detail is explained so that the inexperienced sewer can make without difficulty an attractive dress. Price of the book 10 cents the copy.

Light Pierces Fog

Rainbow Super-Beacon Light Can Penetrate Mists

Raymond R. Machlett, of New York, son of R. H. Machlett, one of the leading X-ray experts in America in the early stages of its development, is demonstrating his rainbow super-beacon light, which penetrates fog and makes possible airplane landings in bad weather.

The light, produced by devices invented by Mr. Machlett, has been exhibited at Huxley and other aviation fields.

"We have demonstrated that this light can be seen many miles away, perhaps fifty," said Mr. Machlett. "It is a form of electric illumination without a filament. It is a 'cold light,' or produced without appreciable heat, by passing an electric current through rarefied neon gas. The color is an unusual orange red, of 10,000 candle power. On very favorable days one at Sandy Hook was seen fifteen miles.

Government agencies are manifesting interest in Mr. Machlett's process, and the device beside them. The Bureau of Standards made a favorable report on the light.

Boats Were Held Up

Late Tide On Thames Caused Mild Sensation In London

The Thames as a rule is a most punctual stream and the steady ebb and flow of its tides are generally so certain to follow the figures printed in the shipping journals that any deviation from the expected produces a small sensation on the river. On a recent day, however, writes the London correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, the flow was due to start at 5.51 a.m., but failed to put in any appearance until after 10. Many boats, including the passenger boats that are now taking thousands of holiday makers down the river to Margate, were held up for an hour.

"The Thames is really very punctual in its tides," said the river superintendent of the Port of London Authority, "but once in a while it acts up, and the tide is either early or late. The delay of the flow was due to westerly wind in the Channel and a change in the air pressure caused by the wind."

Stars Honeymoon at Lake Louise

Exploring hidden glaciers, bathing, hiking, and making a film of their own with a new camera they had purchased, constituted what Rod LaRue and Vilma Blauy considered an ideal honeymoon.

These two famous movie stars, who need no introduction to the American public, turned their backs on Hollywood recently for the mountain resort of Lake Louise in the Canadian Pacific Rockies, to spend their honeymoon. The accompanying photograph shows the six-foot-three screen star and his beautiful Hungarian actress bride, photographed as they were wandering along a quiet path not far from the Chateau Lake Louise where they were guests during their two weeks' stay in the mountains. The wedding was adjudged one of the most popular amongst moving picture fans, style experts and other screen characters, that Hollywood has ever known.

Wounds Without Killing

Bullet Devised By Eastern Inventor Melts After Entering Body

Composed of glycerin, stearin and an antiseptic compound, a "deathless" bullet, devised by an eastern inventor, is intended to wound a person without killing him. It melts after entering the body, leaving a clean wound, but has force enough to stop a man at twenty feet, and would be fatal if striking a vital spot. A feature of the bullet is that it makes twice as much noise as an ordinary one when fired, so it would be of aid to a citizen in spreading an alarm.

Tests showed that it penetrated a one-inch pine board, and it was also shot into a ham to demonstrate its properties.

DAVID SPARES SAUL

Golden Text: He not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.—Romans 12:21.

Lesson, 1 Samuel 26.

Devotional Reading: Romans 8:31-39.

Explanations and Comments

I. Saul Seeks David's Life, verses 1-4.—David had taken refuge in the Wilderness of Ziph, and Saul pursued him with three thousand men. Through spies David learned of his coming.

II. David Spares Saul's Life, verses 5-12.—David came upon the place where Saul was encamped, and found Saul asleep surrounded by his followers with a barricade made by stinging wagons. David returned to his own men and asked, "Why will you go down with me to slay?" The proposed exploit must have appeared to all of them. Abishai, the son of David's sister, returned with David. They found the king still sleeping within the barricade of wagons, with his spear, the symbol of royal authority, stuck in the ground at his head. "God hath delivered up thine enemy into our hands," said Abishai to David, as he begged permission to kill Saul with his own sword.

David forbade. "Who can put forth his hand against Jehovah's anointed and be guiltless?" he asked. There was a sword sheathed in Saul's scabbard, but David could not honor the man, he could honor the king. "We honor in our soldiers, not their worth as individuals, but the patriotic valor with which they fulfil their duty; should we not honor in our rulers, whatever their individual worthiness, the offices they represent?"

With a solemn oath, "as Jehovah liveth," David declared that God would carry out his own purpose. Saul should meet his death as God willed, not as he, David, willed; Saul would die by a sudden stroke, or meet his death in battle as he eventually did; God forbid that he should kill him. "It will be remembered that in the play of Macbeth, Macbeth stabs himself, not his tragic career, when the witches suggest to him that he is to be king. In the play the witches stand for supernatural forces. Macbeth can see no way of fulfilling the destiny predicted for him except through violence. The story of David is even profounder in its moral significance than the story of Macbeth. From a source which stood to the Israelites as supernatural, David, too, learned that he was to be king but his spirit was large enough to turn away from the course which to one of the Macbeth type would have seemed the sure road to the fulfillment of destiny."—Bishop McConnell.

Irish Public Safety Act

New Bill Involves Death Penalty For Possession of Arms

President William T. Cosgrave's positive declaration before the Dail Eireann during the recent session for the murder of Kevin O'Higgins on the extreme wing of the irregular army secured the passage of his drastic public safety act says a despatch from Dublin.

Some members, believing the murder was due to private vengeance, had hesitated to accord the Government the exceptional powers the new measure provides for. Particular objection was taken to empowering the police to search for documents, imprisonment for the possession of seditious documents and deportation of seditious persons.

The question was asked as to where deported persons would go, and it was assumed they would be unable to get passports. But Vice-President Elyot said the persons aimed at were only dangerous in Ireland and that passports would be given them to go anywhere else.

"The organization which the Government believed to be responsible for the policy of assassination as a means of upsetting the state was described by Mr. Cosgrave as having got loose altogether from association with Eamon de Valera, and was under the Republican Party's control. It was the remnant of the irregular army which in May, 1923, de Valera called off from the civil war. Arms were not surrendered at that time, said Mr. Cosgrave, and may still be hidden.

He declared also that documents which had been seized indicated that Irish revolutionaries had been trying to purchase artillery from Germany and rifles from Italy and France. He asserted that one section of the revolutionists threatened to shoot any who took the oath of allegiance to the British Crown.

The possession of arms will, under the new bill, involve the death penalty. Some members, while willing to give the Government the power it asked for against crime, disapproved of President Cosgrave's proposals to purchase artillery from Germany and rifles from Italy and France. He asserted that one section of the revolutionists threatened to shoot any who took the oath of allegiance to the British Crown.

A New Idea For Health

Old Hair-Bend Says Straight People Never Get Sick

A certain woman had "lost" her health, and being one of the fortunate few who may indulge their indispositions, she had spent years in the wake of specialists, watering places, baths and sanitariums.

And still she ailed. She didn't imagine she was ill. She was ill! She had headaches, terrible, unbearable ones; she was nervous, tired, and despondent; she had pain all through her; she couldn't sleep.

One day she sprained her knee. She was roughing it on a western ranch this time trying to secure away the hoodoo of ill health by fresh air and sunshine. There was no doctor near except a little wizened old half-breed who lived in the nearest town some miles away. They hauled her in a Ford over a white alkali road, found the "doctor" playing poker at a gas station and smelting of fumes which were not of the remotest relation to gasoline.

He waited to cash in before going to his office to attend to his patient. With few dexterous twists and pulls the knee was set, and a few directions given.

"Good work, Doctor!" said the wife of the ranch owner, when the patient was safely ensconced in the car again. "You see she's sort of an invalid and we're trying to take good care of her. She's been all over the world and still she's sick. Too bad this had to happen."

"Tell her to sit up straight and she will not be long sick," said the doctor with a grin. "Straight people never get sick."

The invalid in a cured now. She decided to follow the little old fellow's advice. None of the specialists had told her the real truth. Her posture was wrong and she had suffered the tortures of the condemned as a result. I pass it along to those in search of health. "Straight people never get sick!" might be a good axiom to do in cross-stitch and hang over our doorways.

CANADIAN FARMERS TO VISIT DENMARK

Canada's first farmers' tour to the Old Land now being organized by the department of agriculture of the Canadian National Railways, is to go overseas January next. In addition to a tour of England and Scotland, for a study of agriculture and marketing there, the farmers party will also visit Denmark, for a special study of co-operative marketing in the land of its birth.

The pictures above show scenes in Copenhagen, Denmark's capital, where the farmers will spend 8 days or two in sight seeing and also show a typical Danish rural scene. During the visit to Denmark the farmers will see the famous people's high schools, and also the co-operative bacon factories.

The girls agreed, and so it came about that Helmi Mander got her first invitation to a party. She was in the basement, cleaning out Miss Abbie's fruit cellar, when the invitation came. Two girls both dressed in the latest skirt and middie also so much admired, stood at the back door asking to see her. Lucy Powers was the speaker, and the invitation was properly given. The only difficulty was in the fact that Helmi did not understand. Miss Abbie received the invitation and undertook to see that Helmi was present.

The basement of Young Methodist Church is the ordinary church basement, reached by a stairway that is worn alvery and gray by the passing of many feet, but to Helmi that September evening when two girls came for her and took her arm to conduct her thither it was a palace of an enchantment.

They proceeded at once to the lower room, where small parties were held, and here, due to the decorating committee, opened a scene of loveliness that made Helmi catch her breath. Autumn leaves, made of the fine paper ran in festoons from the electric fixtures over the table to each corner of the room. These were the autumn decorations made by the girls at one of their meetings, and would later be replaced by the fall-tinted yellow and black cats, witches and pumpkins. A stone circle filled with crimson and purple asters stood in the middle of the table, and from it there went a trail of ropes of tulle from Lucy Powers' father's greenhouse. A broad band of autumn leaf crepe paper ran down the middle of the table, and at Helmi's plate was a hand-painted card with the Beaver and Maple Leaf. It was printed, "Welcome to Canada."

The streamers of autumn leaves above the table made it easy for Helmi with her quick imagination to believe the table was spread in some enchanted glade under the golden haze crimson foliage which in a frolicsome velvet wind, might come falling gently down.

The table sparkled with color—salads, ornamented with white and yellow daisies (half-bloomed eggs); red flowers and green leaves (petals of leaves and leaves of lettuce); platters of cold meat edged with marinated beets, with velvety red blossoms peeping through, and jellies, amber and yellow, showing geometric designs of oranges and bananas securely and mysteriously suspended.

The crowning glory of the table—positive proof that it was a real party—was the high, slender glass filled with deep orange juice, white grapes and grapefruit, with a red cherry on top riding at anchor! One, at each place!

Helmi breathed ecstatically as she gazed. Her cup of largeness was full. In addition to the gaily around her, she had the exquisite rapture of knowing she was suitably dressed. The very day the invitation came Miss Abbie had taken her down town and bought her a pleated skirt, a middie and a red tie. She was dressed just like the others.

Helmi wondered if this, what Heaven would be like. She had some vague ideas on the subject of heaven which had come to her in her busy, and bought her a pleated skirt, a middie and a red tie. She was dressed just like the others.

Helmi felt very solemn about coming to the church to eat. It was queer to be asked to have supper at God's house. To Helmi, God was a terrible person, whom people only thought of when some one died, or in thunderstorms, floods, famine or sickness. The God she knew was not a person, but a power, and she had been told that when people were very good, they were taken to heaven. Helmi had always thought God had been pretty quick and hard on Peter; but people must not say what they think when it is not God.

And now here she was in God's house, for supper, and around her fifteen girls of her own age, all making her welcome, and everyone as happy as if they weren't at church at all. And they sang some words at first to welcome her, that had been in them, and they looked at her when they sang:

"How do you do, Helmi, girl, how do you do?"

Is there anything that we can do for you?

We are glad you've come to stay in this land of work and play.

And we welcome you today.

Helmi, girl!

Miss Rodgers talked a little then, and the girls all put their heads down, and Helmi knew it was a prayer, and she had queer prickles all over her. Then they began to sing, and by watching the other girls Helmi managed very well. After the first cocktail with the cherry (and Helmi had both a red and green cherry in it), there came scalloped potatoes in a lovely glass dish, and a glass cover, too, with an apple hand, and cold pork and beef, and pickles, and fresh biscuits that Lucy Powers had made herself at school. Lucy managed to get this over to Helmi through the medium of her meagre English, supplemented by signs. And for dessert there was ice cream, both pink and white, with nuts and cake and cocoa.

And the dishes were beautiful, with green ropes and pink roses, and somehow it seemed to Helmi, God nearer than anything—know He liked pink roses on His dishes. They must have a nice God in Canada!

When the supper was over the girls all stood up and sang with hands clasped. Helmi stood between Lucy and Mattie. The music was strange, the words unintelligible, but the hand-clasp was warm and friendly. Helmi understood it and thrilled with a new passion. In her hands she had been a guest and had found friends.

The leader presented her with a little Testament and a Blue and Gold Book which had her name in it, right on the front pages. Lucy showed her some words and said, then to her over and over again, and although Helmi did not know what they meant, she learned to say them, and because these words were vibrant with youth and hope and eager aspirations, they fired her young heart, with a great desire to live proudly and serve humbly. She belonged now, she had her own gang. She wanted to do something for God to show her love for Him, for her new country and these new friends.

Very early the next morning, when the crystal dawn, cool and sweet, was stealing into the sleeping porches on Chestnut Street, there came stealthily a young girl with a scrubbing pal and brush to the locked door. Trying it and finding it locked, she went round to one of the windows in the lower room, the one which had been just above her head. It yielded to her careful touch, and in a moment she and her pal had gone in.

That morning when the janitor came grumbling to his task a stranger scene met his eyes. From the tower room across the damp lincense of a well-scrubbed floor, polished windows, white woodwork, and a clean, honest smell, clean soap, satisfying him.

"Maybe I was wrong about their youngsters; they've got some religion after all," he said.

As Helmi went around her work the next day she sang the tune of the song, but she could not quite get the words. Miss Abbie phoned to Lucy Powers to come over and tell her what it was that Helmi was stuning. Lucy told her the words to Miss Abbie, who, when the Ladies' Aid met, at her house the next week was very proud to have them hear Helmi sing. "She has only been one night at the Club," said Miss Abbie proudly, "but she has learned!"

Miss Abbie knew very well the minister's sister would think that the girls should have taught her "Abide With Me" or "Sowing in the Morning," or something like that, but she was prepared to tell Miss Terry that times were changing.

Motoring Unsafe in Persia

Roads Are Different and Traffic

Was in Worst

There are still a few adventurous occupations left in the world for those who care to seek them.

Carrying the Persian mail is one, for Persia has few railways and only one or two open roads. Téhéran, the capital, is 500 miles from the Iraq frontier, and once a week the consular mail leaves Baghdad for Khamisli on the Iraq-Persian border, and is there transferred to motor transport. In three days with luck, it will reach Téhéran.

Nowadays the Persian roads are "safe." That is, they are normally free from brigands, for Reza Shah has instituted several reforms in connection with the surveillance and improvement of communications. But safety has a restricted meaning when applied to motoring in Persia, for a Persian road is different from all others.

Here and there it is bare earth level by the passage of countless caravans on the Golden Road; here it is roughly fortified by metal thrown down for future caravans to flatten; and there it is a mountainous, sloping directly to alarming precipices.

And the traffic on the Téhéran route must be the worst in the world. Long strings of camels amble along at two miles an hour, when alarmed by the hoofs of a galloping steed, or by the terrible clumsiness of the wrong side, and then, still more clumsily, back again. Processions of carts fill the whole road, carts drawn by two horses and large covered wagons drawn by four bullocks, and a few extra pairs led behind to assist in uphill work.

Fools sometimes rush in and win while wise men are investigating.

Eighty-three Colleges in Operation in Dominion Last Year

Canada had eighty-three colleges in operation last year. Of this total, there were 42 affiliated institutions, including 31 classical colleges, little seminaries and independent non-subsidized classical schools in Quebec, 30 theological, 4 agricultural, 2 law, 1 military, 1 technical, 1 commercial, 1 pharmacy and 1 veterinary.

The total registration of these colleges was approximately 7,752, in addition to 2,039 included with secondary technical institutions. This registration, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, composed about 2,600 doing work of university standard, 6,200 work preparatory to matriculation, and the remainder taking vacation courses, extension courses, evening courses and the like.

Of the students of university standard, by far the largest group were in arts, with a total of 2,953. Theology, philosophy, medical and missionary courses and related subjects ranked second with 1,154. Agriculture was third with 450, and law fourth with 400. Pharmacy had 14 students, commerce 112, veterinary science 66 and engineering 33. Practically all the students of university grade were full time students.

Will Be Great Advantage

Steam Cooled Auto Engines Possible

In Few Years

We'll have steam-cooled engines in our automobiles within a few years, is the prediction of Prof. Edward P. Culver, of the Princeton School of Engineering.

There will be no change in the engine, except the transfer of the hose, that enters the present radiator at the top, to the bottom, and the conversion of the radiator from a cooler into a steam condenser.

The greatest advantage of steam-cooled, says Prof. Culver, is it maintains the engine at a constant and most efficient running temperature, no matter what the temperature is outside.

Good Business

Some people make chicken breeding pay; others find it a losing venture. But scarcely any one of whom we have heard so well with them as the boy, Dawkins by name. Someone asked his father whether chickens really paid. "They pay my son," said the old man. "I bought him the chickens; I supply the feed; I buy the eggs from him, and he eats them."

We cannot hear a sound if it has less than about thirty or more than 40,000 vibrations a second.

The Evolution Of Flying From its First inception

The first to fly:

In a dirigible balloon was Henry Cliffland in 1852. It had a three-horse power steam engine.

In an aeroplane driven by an engine was Orville Wright, on Dec. 17, 1903. He used a 16-horse-power engine.

—Ten miles in an aeroplane in Europe was Delagrange on June 22, 1908, at Milan.

—An hour in an aeroplane was Orville Wright, on Sept. 9, 1906.

Enthusiastic Over Farming In The West

Representative of Norwegian Government Favorably Impressed With

Conditions

Capt. K. S. Irgens, of Oslo, Norway, who made a tour of Western Canada along the lines of the Canadian National Railways as the representative of the Norwegian government, for the purpose of determining the advantages of this country for Norwegian farmers, has returned to the East to pursue his investigations. The captain expressed himself enthusiastically regarding the prosperous and prosperous conditions he found wherever he went, and took away with him favorable impressions of the West generally. He is likely to direct the sea for a farm somewhere in one of the Western provinces. He met many of his countrymen during his trip, and everywhere found them doing well and very contented with the land of their adoption.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

In Summer When Childhood Ailments Are Most Dangerous

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in their house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera, infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mothers do not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Reindeer Ranch

Raising reindeer for commercial purposes in Canada will be undertaken this year by the Dominion Reindeer Co., with headquarters at Vancouver; the company having imported 250 reindeer from Alaska. This herd will be located on the vast grazing areas between the Athabasca and Great Slave Lakes on three million acres secured for that purpose.

For Restless Babies

Warm weather is a trial to both mother and babe, and the task of keeping the little one in perfect health is often very difficult. Probably the matter of proper food for the infant is of greatest concern to the average mother.

If you cannot nurse baby and it does not gain upon the breast milk give him Borden's Eagle Brand Milk—the food that has successfully reared hundreds of thousands of babies. Easy to prepare—just add boiled water as directed.

In this paper from time to time you will find an advertisement of Borden's Eagle Brand Milk, a food that has raised more healthy babies than any other. It is a food of perfect balance, out of the advertisement and mail it to The Borden Company Limited, Montreal, and they will send you, free of charge, instructions for feeding your baby, and a Baby Welfare Book and Baby Record Book. Or, just write the Company mentioning this paper and they will be sent.

ROAD-MAKING IN ALBERTA

The Alberian is of the opinion at the time has arrived when the road problem should be tackled on a firm basis. The present system is a failure. A roads commission consisting of at least three energetic and successful business men ought to supersede the present highways branch, and the problem of adequate funds for road construction should be solved one and for all.

As the government appears to need all its available revenue for present purposes, some other way of financing an ambitious programme of road construction must be found. There are 70,000 car owners in Alberta. They pay a license fee running as high as $50 annually. They are the chief sufferers from bad roads. If they would agree to pay an additional $30 a year to a fund earmarked for highway improvement, it would amount to $2,100,000. On this income a roads commission could easily borrow up to $15,000,000 to apply on a comprehensive scheme for better roads. The annual interest thereon, estimated at five per cent, would amount to $750,000, leaving the balance of the annual revenue for sinking fund and road maintenance.

Some such plan offers a way out of the present dilatory and unsatisfactory system, and the long-suffering car owners would no doubt consider their extra contribution to the province money well spent.

Mr. Ross Powell was a visitor with his father at Coleman during the week.

CALGARY, Alta., July 29.—The proposed policy to link the Canadian national parks with a new highway would necessitate the building of a road from Waterton Lakes national park through the mountains to Fernie, but at the expense of the provincial government outside the parks, according to Hon. Chas. Stewart, minister of the interior, who spent a few hours in the city Thursday prior to leaving for the east at 2:40 p.m. on the C.N.R. Such a highway would connect Banff directly with Waterton Lakes and take tourists through a land containing more scenic beauties than the present route through Pincher according to Hon. Mr. Stewart.

"Would the Dominion government stand the expense of such a road?" Hon. Mr. Stewart was asked.

Hon. Mr. Stewart, in answer to another question, declared emphatically that the Dominion government would do nothing toward the upkeep of other roads linking the national parks if such roads were outside of the parks. The province would be expected to keep these roads in shape with the monies provided by the federal grant for the purpose of building roads. He refused to surmise whether or not the present grant when expended would be augmented by any other similar fund.

MORNING SCHOOL STARTED

Mr. J. W. Smith, Pastor

The services for August 7th will be:

Morning School at 11 o'clock. The subject for the young people's class will be: "What is the Kingdom of God?"

Afternoon School at 2 o'clock. Be sure and be there, boys and girls, because Mr. Smith will have something to show to you.

Evening Worship at 7:30, led by the pastor. The young people's choir will lead the service of praise. The hymn sermon will be on: "Lead Kindly Light, Amid the Encircling Gloom." Subject: "Heroes in Overalls."

If the battle of life seems too much for you; if the very monotony of a never-ceasing round of humble tasks is more than you can bear, be sure to come. You will be helped and cheered by every part of this service.

A meeting of the Board of Stewards will be held in the church to night at 8 o'clock sharp. Important business is slated and all members are asked to attend promptly.

The fall and winter work is being carefully prepared. We hope to carry on all the boys' and girls' work as efficiently as it has been in the past.

The Wednesday evening service is receiving a great deal of consideration. It is the desire of the minister to construct a service for everybody; that everybody will attend, and that everybody will be disappointed when circumstances make it impossible to be present. Later in the month, detailed announcements will be made in this column. The first service will be held on September 7th. Watch for further announcements.

Parents, teachers, think this over:

The Builder
A builder builded a temple,
He wrought it with grace and skill;
Pillars and groins and arches—
All fashioned to work his fill.
And men said as they saw its beauty,
"It never shall know decay;
Great is thy skill, O Builder!
Thy fame shall endure for aye."

A teacher builded a temple,
With loving and infinite care,
Planning each arch with patience,
Laying each stone with prayer.
None praised the unceasing efforts,
None knew of the wondrous plan;
The temple the teacher builded
Was unseen by the eye of man.

None is the builder's temple,
Crumbled into the dust;
Low lies each stately pillar,
Food for consuming rust.
But the temple the teacher builded
Will last while the ages roll;
For that beautiful, unseen temple
Was a child's immortal soul.

ARMAMENTS PARLEY

COLLAPSED

GENEVA, Aug. 4.—The Associated Press was informed in authoritative circles last night that the tripartite naval conference had collapsed.

It is stated that the final session will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The Japanese spokesman said that at last night's meeting of the plenipotentiaries neither the British nor the Americans accepted the Japanese compromise, though they spoke in vague terms. The spokesman added that when the delegates drew up the agenda for today's session, this session, he said, would be the last, each chief delegate making a statement and the conference as a whole issuing a joint communiqué.

ALBERTA WILLS ACT

IS PROCLAIMED

The Wills Act passed by the last session of the Alberta legislature has been proclaimed and is now in effect. It provides for three classes of wills which will be considered as valid, namely, those signed and attested in the usual way, holograph will wholly in the handwriting of the testator with or without witness, and wills of members of the naval, military, air or marine forces.

The act includes a provision that every will shall be revoked by the marriage of the testator except where it is declared in the will that such marriage is contemplated or where the will is made in exercise of a power of appointment and the property thereby appointed would not in default of such appointment pass to the heir.

Mr. Huston will be away about two months and we understand will make the return trip by motor.

L.O.O.F. PICNIC

Local Oddfellows, Rebekahs and their families held their annual picnic yesterday afternoon on the grounds just south of the Blairmore golf course. The weather was ideal and a large number turned out. The foot race, which took up most of the afternoon, were won as follows:

To 5 years, 1st Bobbie Erickson, 2nd Berta Hamner; 5 to 7, 1st Alec Patterson, 2nd Marion Oliver; 7 to 9, 1st Rose Oliver, 2nd James Patterson; 9 to 11, 1st Mamie Hamilton, 2nd Eva Erickson; 11 to 13, boys, 1st Willie Fraser, 2nd Ian Walker, girls, 1st Lucy Hamner; 2nd Laura Link; 13 to 15, boys, 1st Joe Morency, 2nd Arnold Barstall, girls, 1st Arletta Link, 2nd Lena Fraser; 100 yard dash, men, 1st James Joyce, 2nd Tommy McKay; ladies, 1st Mrs. Patterson, 2nd Mrs. Erickson; thread the needle race, 1st Tommy McKay and Lena Fraser, 2nd Joe Hamner and Mrs. Erickson; three-legged race, boys, 1st Alec McKay and Tommy McKay, 2nd Joe Morency and John Hamner, girls, 1st Lena Fraser and Arletta Link, 2nd Mamie Hamilton and Eva Erickson; sack race, 1st Joe Morency, 2nd Tommy McKay.

Everybody voted the affair one of the best yet, and the Rebekahs are to be congratulated on the manner in which the picnic was conducted, the kiddies especially having had the time of their young lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser McLeod, of Mercoal, were visitors to Coleman last week and after a few days stay, continued on by motor to coast points, accompanied by Mrs. Herdman McLeod.

Camping up the North Fork is now ideal. One party returning Friday evening last from Race Horse Creek report having had a good time. One or two members of the party had their first experience of "camp life." Their tent was rolled up snugly and occupied a very comfortable position throughout the outing on the front running board of their car.

Welch was fifty-three years of age and leaves a wife, one daughter of thirteen and a son of ten years of age. On Friday, the body of another man was discovered on a sandbar about eleven miles east of Macleod, and was identified as that of Harry Sissinch, who has been missing since May the 22nd, when he drove to Macleod and was warned not to cross the creek, but he had evidently tried and with his horses was drowned. The team was found the day after the drowning. Sissinch was a Hollander of fifty years of age.

The Coleman Journal says: "That the Power Corporation of Canada and its allied company, the East Kootenay Power Co., are firmly convinced of the further industrial development of the immense coal bearing region of the Crows' Nest Pass, is plainly evidenced by the erection of the big plant six miles west of Coleman, at the ideal location on Crows' Nest Lake, adjacent to the park which is the summer rendezvous for people of towns of the Pass. The plant opened last week, and though there is still considerable finishing work to be done, it has already been generating energy, and in a short time will be able to carry the full load which has formerly been carried by the hydro plants at Elko and Bull River, B.C. Some impression of the capacity of the plant may be gained from the fact that it will require 200 tons of coal daily when operating steadily, and for its cooling system 10,000 gallons of water per minute are taken in from the lake. It is the most complete super-steam plant in Alberta, and the method of firing is by powdered fuel, which is blown into the fire boxes by air pressure and burned in suspension, ninety per cent of the residue being carried off in the immense smokestack, which is 220 feet high and eleven feet in diameter at the base."

Canada's Next Stage Of Development

There are many countries with larger populations, greater accumulations of wealth, and much more highly developed in an industrial sense than Canada, but already this Dominion has achieved fifth place among the commercial nations of the world. Since the war, and more especially during the past few years, the trade of Canada has enormously expanded, the percentage of growth far surpassing that of any other country.

It is a pertinent question to ask: Can Canada retain for itself the proud position already attained, and is it possible for this Dominion to move steadily forward from fifth place to fourth, to third, and ultimately to the very front rank?

Judged from the standpoint of its geographical position on the world's highway between Europe and the Orient, or judged by the extent and variety of its natural resources, whether of the field, the forest, the mine, the fisheries, and water-powers, the answer can be given by an emphatic affirmative. In all these respects, Canada does not occupy a secondary position to any country on earth.

Canada practically controls the world's supply of such essential commodities as nickel and asbestos. It is now, in its infancy, the world's greatest manufacturer of newsprint and the world's greatest exporter of wheat. It has steadily increased its gold output until now it ranks as the world's third largest producer.

Notwithstanding all these advantages, can Canada ever hope to challenge the position of Great Britain and the United States as the world's greatest commercial nations, and if so, what is essential to achieve that result?

Not only in order to attain a still higher and stronger position, but to retain what has already been won, it is necessary that Canada should take certain advance steps. Up to the present time this country has been chiefly concerned with those domestic problems and internal affairs involved in the early settlement and development of the country from a raw territory into an organized state. Attention has been devoted to matters of transportation, to the first stages in the development of natural resources, to laying the essential foundations of any country. This pioneer stage is passing. Canada has found itself, and its future now depends upon the place it can make for itself among the nations in finance, in trade and commerce.

The development of our wealth of natural resources must be the basic foundation upon which to erect our future national structure. These resources constitute the Dominion's greatest economic asset, and their development should proceed along the most approved scientific lines in order that there may be a minimum of waste. It is not sufficient that we cut down forests, and sell timber and pulpwood, or that we dig nickel, or asbestos, or gold out of the ground. We must utilize these resources to their fullest extent in the building up of Canadian industry, and, in so doing, also utilize every possible by-product that can be extracted from them.

In Great Britain, the United States, Germany, huge sums are expended annually in scientific research and elaborately equipped laboratories are provided for the prosecution of such work. Great Britain last year expended $5,000,000 and the United States $50,000,000 on research. If Canada is to hold its own, and is to go forward to greater triumphs, it must now become equipped in like manner. The expenditure of a few million dollars may easily result in discoveries and improved methods which will yield tens and even hundreds of millions to the Dominion.

Canada is an up-to-date country, but in order to retain that reputation it must follow the most up-to-date methods all along the line. It is not sufficient that goods "made in Canada" or articles "produced in Canada" be good; they must be the very best the world can offer.

Coupled with the maintenance of scientific research, the utilization to the utmost of our own natural resources, and the production of nothing but the best, the industrial and commercial interests of Canada must be alert and unite in the adoption of the most up-to-date and effective selling methods, and create the organization essential to command the confidence of the importing world that all contracts entered into can and will be filled to the letter and on the minute called for.

The proposals which the Minister of Trade and Commerce will, it is understood, submit to Parliament at its next session to provide for important expenditures of the activities of the National Research Council, as well as the practical suggestions he has brought with him from England along the line of improved selling and marketing methods, should receive the most earnest consideration of the Canadian people and their whole-hearted support.

Supplying Milk For Chinese

Shanghai Company Purchases Cattle In British Columbia

Despite its political troubles, and the menace of invading armies, the babies of Shanghai must have milk and British Columbia cows will supply it, as in the past. For several years the Shanghai Dairy Company has been buying its stock in British Columbia and shipping it across the Pacific to join the big herds quartered in the pastures south of the foreign quarter. It is this company which supplies most of the dairy produce for the use of European families quartered in Shanghai.

G. T. Orchardson and Captain Grant, representatives of the Shanghai Dairy Company, are in British Columbia on another of their buying trips. They are at present in the Comox Valley purchasing dairy stock. They will buy several hundred head this year.

"Wars and revolutions are a nuisance, but there is nothing more insistent than a baby's demand for milk," said Orchardson. "We have got to meet the demand regardless of whatever else may happen."

A WEAK STOMACH

Can Be Strengthened Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Wonderful is the process by which the chemistry of the body changes the food we eat into the blood. The whole of our well-being depends upon this being maintained day after day, and when it goes wrong, the process becomes faulty, and the food begins to poison the blood instead of feeding it. This is followed by all the signs of indigestion, such as gas on the stomach, pains around the heart, often nausea after eating, and a dislike for all kinds of food.

The only way to overcome these troubles is to tone up the digestion and to get the blood back into the flow. To do this you have only to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A short course of these pills will quickly tone up the stomach and banish indigestion. Here is a bit of convincing proof given by Mrs. Clara Lader, Ellerslie, P.E.I., who says: "For some years I was a sufferer from stomach trouble, and my appetite caused distress, sour stomach and belching. I could not eat meat or potatoes, and I grew thin and weak. No medicine seemed to help me until I was persuaded to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I took them faithfully for a couple of months by which time every symptom of my trouble disappeared and there has not since been the slightest symptom of stomach trouble. I feel like a new man. I praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Doctor Going To Africa To Hunt Cure For Sleeping Sickness

A really sporting expedition is that which Dr. Arthur Torrance will make next autumn to Central Africa, most African dangers go after lions or elephants. There is much danger—to the lions and elephants. With the present type of expanding bullets which blow a hole the size of a man's head in the quarry's body, there is very little danger to the hunter.

Doctor Torrance's hunt will be for something really dangerous. He is going to study the tsetse fly, hoping to find a cure for the sleeping sickness it breeds.

Many doctors have sacrificed their lives in the study of this plague. May the brave Doctor Torrance not be added to the roll.

Radio Entertainers Well Paid

Some Get Hundred Dollars a Minute

Does it pay to entertain radio fans? Here are a few figures dug up by the New York dramatic weekly, "Variety."

Toscanini, the Italian composer, who will direct the New York Philharmonic Orchestra on the air, will get $1,500 for each concert.

Some hours, like the Maxwell, Eveready and Atwater Kent, are said to pay as high as $100 a minute for a quarter hour of good music. The Texas Troubadours, and Lehman Jones Orchestra will play together at Atlantic City, for half a month, for $12,000.

Each member of the Eveready Kestrels gets $200 for each hour he's on the air.

Cairn Unveiled

Where First Party Of Mounted Police Entered Edmonton Over Fifty Years Ago

Unveiling of the cairn in the grounds of Fort Saskatchewan, which marks the site of the original buildings erected in October, 1874, by Col. W. D. Jarvis and 20 non-commissioned officers and men of the first party of Royal North West Mounted Police to enter the Edmonton district, was made recently by Major-General Greisdach, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., in the presence of a large gathering of old-time members of the famous force and citizens of the town.

Nature's Gentleman

"Thank you very much indeed," beamed the well-dressed fapper in the bus as a workman offered her his seat. "That was very kind of you."

The other blushed happily and gave a number of other males a hard glare as he answered:

"Not at all, miss not at all. I know some men don't give up their seats unless it happens to be a pretty girl, but looks make no odds to me."

And everybody except the young girl smiled.

Fraud Oil Experts

Self-styled Oil Engineers Making Easy Money U.S.

The United States Department of the Interior has recently issued a warning against self-styled oil engineers who have been offering their services to farmers and landowners to test the soil by a chemical or photographic process for determining whether or not oil underlies the property. The operators, who charge a fee of $25 for an "examination" are said to be claiming that they are experts working under the supervision of the government.

Inquiry in the Department at Washington has of course brought out the fact that no such specialist has ever been connected with its staff as a geologist, nor does the Geological Survey know of any method of oil a few hundred or a few thousand feet beneath the surface can be determined by a test of the soil, chemically, photographically, or otherwise.

It may easily happen, says the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa, by way of warning, that these operators when they find that the game is up where they are operating, will make their way across the border into Canada and endeavor to interest farmers and others in territories adjacent to the proven oil fields of Ontario, New Brunswick, and Alberta. These hopes aroused and consequent speculation might easily result from taking the advice of these self-styled experts too seriously.

Italy Has World's Largest Grape Vine

Some Branches Reach Almost Seven Feet From Trunk

What is believed to be the world's largest grape vine grows in the province of Reggio Emilia, Italy. It has a trunk measurement of more than four feet in circumference, and its branches are supported by 20 cm. trunks growing near it. Some of its branches reach almost 70 feet from the trunk. This monster vine has been known to produce in a year a quantity of grapes equal to the average production of a small vineyard. It is known to be at least 100 years old, and some believe it to be much older than that.

FOR BRITAIN AND UNITED STATES TO CO-OPERATE

London.—The Marquis of Reading was the chief speaker at a dinner given at Darnley House by the British-speaking union in honor of the visiting United States editors.

"I am confident that His Majesty's government is seeking every possible means to arrive at an agreement in the question which is now the subject of so much discussion," said Lord Reading, alluding to the disarmament dispute at Geneva. "His Majesty's government does not speak for one party. Certainly the party to which I belong (Liberals) is associated with the government in the desire to reach an agreement."

During the Great War America and this country worked in the closest co-operation with the utmost goodwill, striving for one common purpose. Are we still engaged in this common purpose? Are we still seeking international peace and striving to avoid any recurrence of war?

"We assuredly have a common purpose, and can we not work with the same co-operation and goodwill, with the same trust we had during the war, striving again for the common purpose and perhaps, may I add, for a nobler purpose?"

"If God forbid—anything should happen to make our paths diverge, then, in my mind, the work will be a terrible disaster. I believe in my innermost heart, after an experience of many years in this country and in yours, there is an almost sacred desire that we should achieve peace and maintain it. We should do all in our power to preserve it in the future, and continue to labor together to the best of our ability to that end."

Determined To Make Trip

Schiller Will Resign If Leave Of Absence Refused

Port Arthur, Ont.—Lieut. Clarence (Duke) Schiller, left Port Arthur for Shebandown, N.S., to arrange for transfer of his survey work.

Lieut. Schiller explained before his departure that he had not resigned from the Canadian 'air service,' but that he was awaiting consideration of his application for leave of absence.

"Only as a last resort he declared would he resign and in the meanwhile plans are going ahead for his contemplated flight from Windsor, Ont., to Windsor, England."

Scheme Under Consideration By Institute Of Pacific Relations

Honolulu.—The draft of a proposed treaty to abolish war among the nations of the Pacific was before the Institute of Pacific Relations here, having been presented by a U.S. delegate, Prof. James T. Shotwell, of the History Department of Columbia University.

Divergent views as to the applicability of the proposed "American Locarno" to the nations involved, were expressed by the delegates, particularly those from Japan.

Wants Land For Air Field

Detroit Airplane Company Asks New-landed To Grant Tract

St. Johns, Nfld.—The Newfoundland government has been requested to grant a tract of public land near Harbor Grace on the North side of Conception Bay, for purposes of transatlantic aviation.

Fred Koehler, of Detroit, representing the Stinson Aeroplane Company, petitioned the government to grant a piece of land near Harbor Grace to be used for two flying fields. On each side would be established a runway 300 feet wide and 4,000 feet long.

The fields, Koehler said, would be used primarily by the Vaco Air Service Company of Detroit, which is sponsoring an attempt to fly around the world in 15 days.

Afterward, Koehler said, the flyers could alight on their East bound journey and stop off for a couple of days. The fields would be used in all transatlantic flights in either direction.

The government was considering the application.

Decrease In Value Of Creamery Butter

Although Canada's 1926 Production Higher Than Previous Year

Ottawa.—An important series of reports have been released by the Dominion bureau of statistics, based on statistics showing production in a number of Canadian industries during 1926.

Canada's production of creamery butter in 1926 amounted to 178,156,375 pounds valued at $62,925,049, an increase in quantity compared with the preceding year of 1,657,048 pounds, but a decrease in value of $853,648.

Prince Edward Island, Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan record slight increases in production, while the other provinces show decreases.

Gypsum production in Canada advanced to a new high mark in 1926. The total production for the year was 833,728 tons worth $2,776,813 against 740,323 tons at $2,359,591 produced in 1925.

Estimate Number Of Harvesters Required

Approximately 31,000 Will Be Needed For Western Canada

Winnipeg.—Approximately 31,000 harvesters from Eastern Canada and the Pacific coast will be required by Western Canada to garner this year's crop.

This estimate was arrived at at a meeting here of representatives of the railways, the labor bureau of the three prairie provinces and the government employment services. The first call for harvest help last year was for 58,000 men.

The distribution of imported harvest workers will be 20,000 to Saskatchewan, 8,000 to Alberta and 3,000 to Manitoba.

The first harvest special train will start moving from British Columbia to the prairies about the middle of August and the first from Eastern Canada about September 1.

To Stage Grand Rally

Conservatives Preparing For Big Convention At Winnipeg

Ottawa.—Manitoba Conservatives are preparing for the Conservative convention to be held in Winnipeg, October 11. A manager is being appointed to carry out a full detailed program, according to advice received at opposition headquarters from General A. D. McRae, M.P., chairman of the national committee organizing for the meeting. Several thousand people from the prairie provinces alone will attend the convention, in addition to the official delegates, states General McRae.

Automatic Radio For Ocean Boats

London.—All large ocean-going vessels will shortly be fitted with a new automatic wireless alarm apparatus. The apparatus which has been designed by the Marconi Company, will automatically pick up, discriminate, and then call attention to the fact that the vessel is within wireless range for sending out distress signals. It will relay operators from the necessity of being always at their post.

Immigrants As Harvesters

Brandon, Man.—It is believed that the settlement of immigrants in this district this year will greatly assist in harvest operations. At the employment bureau here it was stated that the Brandon's need this year for harvesters is 2,000 additional men. This is 200 fewer than a year ago, but the coming of many immigrants helped solve the situation considerably.

London Paper Fears Clash Of Popularity

Truth's Afloat Cannot Avoid Showing Preference For Either Prince Or Premier

London.—Truth, society and financial weekly, in a recent issue, says whoever planned the joint tour of the Prince of Wales, Prince George, and Premier and Mrs. Baldwin to Canada must be singularly lacking in imagination.

"The Prince of Wales is not the Sovereign and Mr. Baldwin is not a Pitt," Truth says, "but it is tactless to say the least about it, to run the risk of a clash of popularity and unthoughtful rivalry between the Heir Apparent and the Prime Minister of Great Britain. How are the Canadians to divide their hospitality as to bring no sign of preferring the Prince to the Prime Minister or vice versa?"

Truth proceeds to declare that in its opinion the tour is a mistake because of the state of Premier Baldwin's health.

"Mr. Baldwin is going to take a 'bury man's holiday' by visiting a country where, in addition to long railway journeys and exhausting public meals, he will be expected to make the most difficult kind of speeches about nothing in particular at every place he visits."

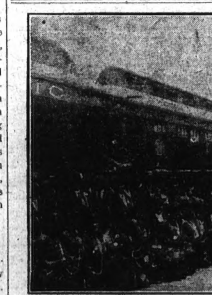

SOVIET ACTIVITY INTOLERABLE TO FRENCH PEOPLE

Paris.—Jean Herbet, French ambassador at Moscow, who recently spent two weeks in Paris, returned to his post bearing instructions that the Soviet government be informed that communist propaganda in France is becoming intolerable to French public opinion, it was learned here.

Although the French foreign office says that M. Herbet was not instructed to make official representations involving both governments in an exchange of notes, official circles are certain that he will make the Soviet government cognizant in an informal and unofficial manner of the sentiment of the French people and government.

While in Paris the French ambassador to Moscow had conferences with President Doumergue, Premier Poincaré and Foreign Minister Briand and also discussed the Russian propaganda situation with prominent personalities of the press, commercial, industrial and banking worlds.

He is said to have left Paris with the personal conviction as well as official advice that France is tired of what it believes to be a conspiracy between the Communist movement in France and the diplomatic mission of Soviet Russia in Paris. He is reported to have informed Foreign Minister Tchitcherine quite plainly that if the Soviet government entertains hope of coming to an agreement with France on the lines of trade, commerce and industry, the Soviet embassy at Paris must put a stop to its alleged activities here.

Girl Guides Tour Canada

Over 100 Girl Guides from the eastern provinces and three prominent English guides, entrained from North Toronto station recently on a special Canadian Pacific train for a tour through the western part of Canada, particularly the Canadian Rockies where the party will make camp at Banff and other famous mountain resorts.

This adventure in the mountains has been undertaken in the minds of the guides for many months. The feature of their tour will be camps set up at various points in the Rockies, the first at Penitence and then at Kelowna in the Okanagan Valley.

BETTER SPIRIT NOW PERVADES NAVAL PARLEY

London.—Hope that the tangle arising out of the Geneva naval conference will soon be unravelled is growing in official circles in the British capital. This is due largely to the statement made in the House of Commons by Sir Austen Chamberlain, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, outlining anew the whole British attitude toward the parleys and containing the declaration:

"There need be no difficulty in arriving at a temporary arrangement about the immediate future of cruiser building."

It was this question upon which the regulations stalled. Sir Austen appeared in Parliament soon after Rt. Hon. W. C. Bridgeman, First Lord of the Admiralty, and Viscount Cecil, the chief British delegates to the naval conference started back for Geneva to re-open the discussions with the United States and Japanese delegates. The purpose of the Foreign Secretary's statement was to put the full weight of the British Government behind the proposals the delegates will make.

A second reason for the statement was to remove the misunderstanding which the British Government believes exists in the minds of many Americans regarding the British aims at Geneva. Although the statement was made at Westminster, and the United States was not mentioned, it was nevertheless admittedly intended for the unseen audience of the people of the United States.

The Foreign Minister favored the Commons that the British Government had even been charged with a desire to destroy the principle of sea power equality as between Great Britain and the United States, established at the Washington conference, and he added emphatically:

"There is no foundation for such suspicion."

He repudiated the British Government to complete agreement with the two-fold purpose of the Geneva meeting as outlined in President Coolidge's invitation—reduction of naval expenditures, while maintaining national security.

Receive Humane Medals

Hamilton, Ont.—Two westerners have been awarded bronze medals for heroism by the Royal Humane Association, according to an announcement made here. They are Laddie Jason, 14 years of age, Moose Jaw, who rescued two girls from drowning and who, a week before, had rescued a chum from a similar fate and Harvey Capman, for the rescue from drowning of Enid Price at Nainito, B.C.

Life Is Threatened

Dublin.—Eamon de Valera, following the assassination of Vice-President Kevin O'Higgins, received numerous threatening letters and the Irish Free State authorities have placed him under police protection. It was learned here. A plain clothes man accompanies the Republican leader everywhere. Other Republican leaders also received threatening letters.

From their schedule calls for attendance at the Dominion Jubilee Camp at Victoria. The girls' eastward journey will be a succession of mountain camps when they will pitch their tents as they have done for the last six years in many parts of Ontario. The longest stay will be at Banff, where they will get a real taste of out-door life. During the entire camping stops the girls will adhere strictly to camp rules, up at six and lights out at 10.

Their journey across Canada will bring them into contact with numerous western troops who have arranged to entertain the eastern party in the principal cities enroute.

Manitoba Wheat Pool

Fourth Annual Meeting Is Held At Brandon

Brandon.—The fourth annual meeting of the Manitoba Co-operative Wheat Producers Ltd., was opened in the city Wednesday approximately 350 delegates and thirty-two visitors are registered, making this the largest meeting ever held by the pool.

The membership in the wheat and coarse grain pools July 15 was 18,758. A drive has commenced for renewal of the contracts that will expire in 1928, and while only a small territory has been canvassed, practically all the old members have again contacted as well as 520 new members.

For the 1925-26 crop the Pool operated 8 elevators. This year 30 were in operation and next year about 60 will be run by the Pool. In 1925-26, every unit showed a surplus varying from 1.09 cents to 6.75 cents a bushel; 1926-27 figures are not yet available.

The central selling agency which is the selling body for the three western pools, reports 23 agencies established in 15 different countries, and at present is considering the opening of a London office. The agency, the report states, has made its own market and sells nearly 50 per cent of its grain outside the ordinary channels.

An Ontario pool has just been organized, with about 8,000 members, and will also sell through the Central Agency.

Urge Sales Tax Cut

Resolution Adopted At Convention Of Retail Merchants Association

Statist John, N.B.—The Dominion Board of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada, here adopted 20 resolutions. The most important of these asked further reduction in the sales tax, protesting against the reduction in parcel post rates, requested tax on mail order houses, based proportionally on the operating expenses of merchants in the municipality in which they are conducting.

It is urged that such a tax by paid to the government and distributed in proportion to the municipalities. The association also co-operated with other organizations with remedying of the price evil on nationally advertised goods and the abolition of the stamp or "nuisance tax."

WORLD POULTRY CONFERENCE IS WELL ATTENDED

Ottawa.—With forty-two countries officially represented, the third world's poultry congress was opened here.

Nearly five thousand people including delegates and members from five continents were present when Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture for Canada, initiated proceedings. Some forty-two states of the American Union were represented, while all provinces in the Dominion had delegates on hand.

On behalf of the British Empire, His Excellency the Governor-General, Viscount Willingdon, extended a hearty welcome to all international and Canadian delegates. Premier W. L. Mackenzie King, for the Dominion of Canada, greeted the visitors, while Mayor John Ballharrie, Ottawa, presented the key of the city to all members of the International Association of Poultry Investigators and Inspectors. President Brown, Hon. William Phillips, United States minister to Canada; W. D. Wilson, Holland, and Prof. Don Castello, Spain, responded to the speeches of welcome.

At the conclusion of the formal opening, Viscount Willingdon was the guest of honor at a luncheon tendered by members of the congress.

Every inch of space in the auditorium was occupied when Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture, as honorary chairman, initiated the proceedings. On behalf of the British Empire, His Excellency the Governor-General, Viscount Willingdon, heartily welcomed the international and Canadian delegates.

Premier W. L. Mackenzie King greeted the visitors on behalf of the Canadian people and a civic welcome was then extended by Mayor John Ballharrie, of Ottawa.

Edward Brown, of London, England, congress chairman, briefly responded to the welcome extended. For the delegates from some 42 states in the American Union, Hon. William Phillips, United States minister, expressed his deep appreciation for the efforts of the Canadian government towards the comfort and happiness of his compatriots, many of whom were visiting the Canadian capital for the first time.

MANITOBA POOL WILL ACQUIRE MORE ELEVATORS

Brandon.—At the annual meeting of the Manitoba Co-operative Wheat Producers Ltd., it was decided to embark on a more aggressive elevator building policy. In response to a call for a bigger program than is possible under the present two cents per bushel deduction provision, the directors submitted a resolution that bonds be issued to build more elevators.

As collateral the Manitoba pools interest in the existing pool elevators will be hypothecated up to 65 per cent. This resolution carried by a large majority.

Six out of the seven former board directors were re-elected.

Roy McPhail, Brandon, secretary of the Manitoba Livestock Producers, Ltd., outlined the proposed international selling agency in St. Boniface, which is expected to open about the new year.

Mr. Brouillette, director of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, urged the delegates not to be blinded to the basic reasons for co-operation, 1926 to let the fact of elevators obscure the real object, which is the better marketing of the crops.

The pools have disproved one ancient misconception, he told the meeting, and that is that the farmers will not stick together. It also has been shown that when, when in the early days, worried by hostile propaganda did the intelligence of the farmers as great an injustice as the instigators of the propaganda. It no longer causes uneasiness.

It was decided to hold the meeting in Brandon next year, and after votes of thanks the conference adjourned.

Dowager Queen Marie Is Relatively Poor

Cannot Maintain Dignity Of Court Unless Government Grants

Bucharest.—King Ferdinand's death has left Queen Marie relatively a poor woman. Unless the state comes forward with help for the dowager queen she may be obliged to convert some of her jewels and other possessions into cash.

An already announced Ferdinand's 300,000,000 lei fortune (about $1,800,000) will be apportioned equally among the King's five children in the form of annuities. The Queen, however, receives nothing but use for life of certain of the King's properties and palaces.

Queen Marie is said to feel keen distress over the financial situation and efforts have been started by friends to induce the cabinet to recommend to parliament a liberal allowance in order to enable her, as dowager queen, to maintain the former dignity and liberality of her court.

Preparing For Flight

British Aviators Will Compete For Prize Of $5,000

Dublin.—Col. F. F. Michin, of the British Imperial Airways, and Leslie Hamilton, British air taxi owner, who are in the midst of active preparations for a trans-Atlantic flight, flew from Dublin to Clifden, Galway, to pick out a definite point for their hop off. They hope to leave about the middle of August in a Fokker monoplane.

The latest statement of the flyers' plans show that their first objective will be Ottawa, where they will fly to London, Ont., and thence back to London, Eng., their desire being to win the £5,000 offered for that feat.
